Bengaluru, Apr. 22 (KMS& BCT)- Four Janata Dal (Secular) party leaders from Karnataka were killed in Colombo and three others are yet to contact their families after Sunday's serial bomb blasts in the Sri Lankan capital Colombo that killed 290 people and injured more than 500.

Karnataka Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy tweeted: "I am deeply pained at the loss of our people in the #colombo attacks. TV channels reported that most of the leaders were from Chikkaballapura district. They had left for a vacation after campaigning in the Constituency.

Earlier, confirming the presence of the JD(S) team in Lanka, Kumaraswamy had tweeted: "I am shocked to hear that a 7-member team of JD(S) workers from Karnataka, who were touring Colombo, has gone missing after the bomb blasts in #colombo. Toying with toddlers

An idiom in Kannada conveys the message that the robustness of the tree is unmistakably hinted at the stage of its sapling itself, even as the seed germinates. The English language idiom Child is father of the man, originating from the poem My Heart Leaps Up by William Wordsworth (1770-1850), the most popular interpretation of which conveys the message that man is the product of habits and behaviour developed in childhood. Adults in the family are known to play a major role in the moulding of the toddlers through the years of their growth, first as youth and later as adults. The learning as well as behaviour on the part of the growing child are known to be marked by the phenomenon of the junior imitating the elders in the family by keenly watching them in word and deed. The neighbourhood and the school are also part of the child's growing. Another factor behind that growing, not much talked about in public domain, is the exposure of the toddlers to toys that fascinates them like nothing else, thanks to the pressures and compulsions of life in our times, to varying degrees in urban and rural spaces.

Once a flourishing cottage industry, toys made with an exclusive quality of wood by artisans in the town of Channapatna is on the brink of extinction. According to legend, the local artisans were trained by their counterparts from the then Persia (now Iran) more than 200 years ago. No household in the then Princely State of Mysore failed to patronise this toys industry, with at least one toy in the family.

Both elegance and durability marked the Channapatna toys known to be close to the hearts of the toddlers through many generations. Their features of safety, much debated with respect to modern toys, was never in doubt, apart from their cost within the reach of the entire cross section of the then society. Thanks to the emergence of toys that move and even possess voice, resembling robots, Channapatna toy industry has faded into oblivion, except for a handful of artisans still clinging to their calling, hardly noticed by travellers on the Mysuru-Bengaluru route's stretch passing through the once-famed toy-town. Whatever is in the households, the toys of Channapatna made several decades ago still enjoy their antique value, despite not attracting the attention of both toddlers and their parents.

At the end of the day, with the good old Channapatna toys gone with the wind and modern-day toys being expensive, toddlers in the rustic households are the losers in the bargain. The only hope for revival of the classic toy industry of Channapatna depends on the initiative by entrepreneurs who appreciate the value of toying with toddlers.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Lost in the humdrum of modern life, showering (or bathing as we call it in our country), is seen as no more than a chore today. Not very long ago it was a primal activity in any household. The bathroom was not just any other room, for it was referred to as 'bathing house' ('snanada mane' in Kannada). It was considered anathema to have the toilet anywhere near the bathroom, let alone be a part of it, very much unlike the 'two in ones' we find today. The logic was, a polluting activity and cleansing activity could not be performed in close proximity to one another ! — Anand Simha in Deccan Herald.

Teen creates world's largest drawing

Larnaca: A 17-year-old artist in Cyprus has set a Guinness World Record for creating a drawing measuring a total 3,486 square feet, 61 square inches, the drawing he created at The English School Nicosia, where he is a student..

Guinness said that Alex Dzaghigian, set the record for the largest drawing by an individual when he created the gargantuan image of a turtle surrounded by plastic waste.

"The drawing depicted a turtle eating a plastic bag, an occurrence which happens often since they are confused with jellyfish," Dzaghigian said.

"It takes hundreds years for plastic to biodegrade depending on the type of plastic; very often marine life becomes entrapped in nets and plastic bags. Quite often, marine life ingest these plastics and end up as food for human consumption," he said.

Granny breaks dead-lifting world record

Springdale: A 69-year-old Arkansas woman known as "Granny Hulk" broke a world record for deadlifting just three months shy of her 70th birthday.

Sharie Mobley, the 'Granny Hulk,' who will be 70 in July, broke a world record for deadlift in her class and division when she lifted 305 pounds. "It's my motivation. It's what keeps me going. To sit at home, I couldn't do it," Mobley said.

The 123-pound grandmother, who started lifting at the age of 60 to offset osteoporosis, said she sees age as a mindset and added that her goal is to break more records.

Suggestion to Railways

Sir,

Train number 12613/12614 Tipu Express runs in the morning from Mysuru to Bengaluru at 11.30 am. As the train shares its rake with 120651/120652 Bengaluru-Talaguppa Express and 12725/12726 Bengaluru-Dharwad Express, this train further continues its journey from Bengaluru to Dharwad after 2pm.

Similarly, the down train from Dharwad (No. 12726) Siddaganga Express arrives at 2.30 pm in Bengaluru and resumes its journey towards Mysuru as Tipu Express at 3.15 pm. All the three daily running trains share their rake in a cycle thus causing confusion among the passengers.

As all the rakes carry four destinations displayed on the train's name boards (that is Mysuru, Talaguppa, Dharwad and Bengaluru), it further affects many passengers on the platform in the last minute due to simultaneous announcements related to arrival and departure of Tipu Express and Siddaganga Express.

Railways may amalgamate both the rakes of Tipu-Siddaganga Express only to operate it as a single rake train between Mysuru-Dharwad via Bengaluru. This move will ensure seamless rail travel between Mysuru-Dharwad through a single journey booking and avoid confusion. It is also suggested to discontinue the existing RSA (Rake Share Arrangement)of these two trains with 120651/120652 Bengaluru-Talaguppa Express.

The suggested idea to de-link the present RSA arrangement will enable the Railways to operate accordingly and further meet the high demand between Mysuru-Dharwad. The augmentation of an AC Chair Coach (C1) and a new Pantry Car Coach (PC1) is long overdue in both the trains and may perhaps be justified with the idea operating the same as single rake train by de-linking RSA arrangement.

Hence, the Railway authorities are requested to look into the suggestion of de-linking the RSA between Tipu - Siddaganga Express to amalgamate it as a single rake train between Mysuru-Dharwad.

EC orders probe into names missing from voters' list

Bengaluru, Apr. 22- While voters of Bengaluru, especially the IT crowd, were mocked for low voting turnout in the Lok Sabha election, thousands of eligible voters were shocked as they found that their names were missing from the electoral rolls.

Now, after several people complained about this, the State Election Commission has ordered an inquiry into the deletion of names. Hundreds of people had complained that their names were deleted for no reason and that they had to return from the polling booths disappointed as they could not vote last Thursday during phase-1 of voting in Karnataka.

Reacting on the issue, Chief Electoral Officer Sanjiv Kumar yesterday said that mass indiscriminate deletion of names from the voters' list has not happened as alleged by the BJP. The State BJP unit on Thursday wrote to the Election Commission alleging that some officials were working as agents of the coalition government. The BJP is also contemplating filing a Public Interest Litigation in the High Court.

Speaking to presspersons here, Sanjiv Kumar said: "It is absolutely wrong to say that mass indiscriminate deletion of names had taken place from the voters' list in Bengaluru's three Constituencies." The city Constituencies recorded low turnout compared to the rest in the State.

Sanjiv Kumar

"We have ordered an inquiry. But prima facie, there is no summary deletion done this year. Every deletion is covered by an application and inquiry," he said. "My office had given the electoral roll of Jan. 16 to political parties and many names had been deleted and added in that list owing to change/shift in residences of voters. We had given the latest list of voters prepared in March to only contesting candidates," he said.

Although many only complained about missing names, the issue was brought to the Election Commission's notice by P.S. Prahallad, who teaches Sanskrit and English in a private college in Bengaluru. Based on his complaint, the CEO's office directed the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Commissioner, who is also the Bengaluru District Election Officer, to look into the issue and submit a report within a week.

BBMP Commissioner N. Manjunatha Prasad however said no names were deleted without following proper procedure. The voters' list revision was done strictly as per the directions of the EC, and booth-level officers went to each house to collect details while revising the voters' list, he claimed.

Sanjiv Kumar said people who change houses believe that if they have voted earlier at a particular booth, their names will still be there on the list. But if the new occupants give a statement that the person does not live there, such names are deleted after due inquiry. "People must take the initiative to check before polls and file application to add their names," he added.

In his petition, Prahallad expressed apprehension that over 1,50,000 names had been deleted from the voters list in Bengaluru and adversely affecting the prospects of a particular political party. In his complaint, he alleged that the deletions were made after targeting those voters known to be voting for candidates from that party. "This is not in the right spirit. It is a very serious issue and there needs to be detailed probe to find out the reasons for deletion of names and how it has been done so that such things do not happen," he said.

Will retire from politics if Nikhil loses: Dist. Minister

C.S. Puttaraju

Mandya, Apr.22- Minor Irrigation and Mandya District incharge Minister C.S. Puttaraju has said that he will retire from politics if Mandya Lok Sabha seat JD(S) candidate Nikhil Kumaraswamy loses the polls.

Pointing out that he had extensively toured all eight Assembly segments of the Constituency, he said that Nikhil would get lead in all Assembly segments and he is very much confident of Nikhil's victory by a huge margin.

Stating that independent candidate Sumalatha Ambarish was an actress and the people would not fall prey to her tantrums, Puttaraju said Sumalatha's defeat was certain.

Accusing the I-T Department for carrying out selective raids, targeting only JD(S) and Congress leaders, he reiterated that Nikhil would win and if not, he (Puttaraju) will quit politics.

State Govt. targeting all those who supported me: Sumalatha

Sumalatha Ambarish

Mandya, Apr. 22- Mandya Lok Sabha Constituency independent candidate Sumalatha Ambarish has accused the State Government of targeting all those who supported her in the polls.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Sumalatha lashed out at Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy (HDK) for saying that he will make the actors who supported Sumalatha repent for their action and questioned the CM whether it was a threat or something else.

Expressing happiness over the high turnout in Mandya, she said that women have turned out in large numbers and it was a matter of pride for her.

Thanking the media for giving a balanced coverage, she said that this election has unearthed true colours of some politicians.

Reacting to reports about huge bettings going on in the district, Sumalatha appealed to the people not to go for betting, as betting is always a risk which has destroyed many homes in the past.

Maintaining that she is aware of all the efforts made by the CM and other JD(S) leaders to defeat her, Sumalatha accused HDK of playing politics over the last rites of her husband-actor Ambarish who passed away in November last.

Reiterating that three days after the polls, her supporters are still being intimidated, she alleged that JD(S) workers are resorting to goondagiri.

Sumalatha said that she would be celebrating Ambarish's birth anniversary at Mandya on May 29 and details were being worked out.

Conman who pulled wool over Police eyes arrested

Engineering graduate poses as probationary IPS officer; cools his heels in jail

Mysuru, Apr. 22 (RK&BCT)- An engineering graduate calling himself a Kerala Cadre IPS officer on probation tried to pull a fast one on City Police officers by seeking an air-conditioned SUV for a family vacation. But an alert officer from Krishnaraja Police Station caught his lie and the conman has now been arrested and sent to judicial custody.

The conman has been identified as 35-year-old C.N. Dilip, son of late Nijalingappa and a resident of Vijayanagar Third Stage, Third Main 'A' Block. He completed his engineering at a college in Mandya and secured a degree from Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU). Police said that Dilip had a passion for civil services but had failed in his attempts to clear the competitive exams.

Dilip's late father was a bureaucrat who served the Karnataka government. Dilip tried to cheat the Police by presenting an edited copy of a Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) notification issued in December 2018.

According to Krishnaraja Police, Dilip met Inspector V. Narayanaswamy on Apr. 14 and claimed to be a 2017-batch IPS officer on probation from the Kerala cadre. He promptly pulled out an MHA notification to authenticate his appointment and sought an air-conditioned Innova SUV for a family vacation from Apr. 19.

Dileep told the Police officer that he had come to the city for holidays and asked the inspector to arrange the SUV for sightseeing. He directed the Police to pay the SUV rent and the driver's allowances. "At the very first meeting, I found it fishy. His behaviour was strange. He had downloaded an MHA notification from its website as PDF and tinkered with it to produce a letter that declared him an IPS officer," Narayanaswamy said.

C.N. Dilip

Dilip lacked even basic understanding of how a Police department functions but still made persistent demands for an SUV. He asked the Inspector to send the SUV to his house in Vijayanagar. Suspicious of his behaviour, the Police checked the Home Ministry website for 2017 IPS officers' list and found that Dilip's claims were false.

The serial number (144, rank 759) printed in the certificate produced by Dilip had the name of Padam Singh from Rajasthan. Later the Police deputed two Constables near his residence to confirm his credentials. Within hours, they found him to be a fraudster.

Dilip had made repeated calls to Narayanaswamy demanding the vehicle and spoke to the Inspector in a rude manner. "Once we knew he was cheating us, we arrested him," Narayanaswamy said. The Constables deputed to check Dilip's antecedents reported to the Police Station that Dilip lived with his sister at Vijayanagar.

The Police also came to know that Dilip hailed from Chitradurga and used to introduce himself as a probationary IPS Officer wherever he went. He also lied to some members of his family that he had cleared the civil service exam.

Dilip also put out an advertisement in a newspaper claiming he had cleared the exam and had been selected as an IPS officer. Seeing the ads, some private organisations had even felicitated him. Realising that his con has worked, Dilip craved for publicity. After fooling commoners, Dilip decided to play the trick on Police officials that did not work.

Realising that Dilip was a fraud, Narayanaswamy then trapped him by instructing the driver of the SUV to pick Dilip from his house and bring him to the Police Station. The driver did exactly as he was told. Dilip has now been sent to judicial custody and his dealings are being investigated.

Leadership Lessons FOR DAILY LIVING

By Dr. R. Balasubramaniam

Leading Communities...

Kamakshi and her life is an inspiration not just to women, but to all people engaged in the endeavour of human development. I got to know of her through one of my colleagues who interacts with her on a regular basis. Kamakshi and her family reside in Shanbhoganahalli in Hunsur taluk on the outskirts of Mysuru. I met her a few days ago and she came across as any other typical rural woman. But once she started talking about her life and work, I realised that she was no ordinary person. Being born in a poor household with two other sisters meant a life growing up in poverty. Despite the socio-economic challenges, her father insisted that all the three daughters go to school and she managed to get herself a high school education. It was around the late nineties, that her sister got to join a Self-Help Group (SHG) promoted by an NGO in her village. Kamakshi too wanted to participate in it but was denied membership. Not the kind of person to give up, Kamakshi decided that she would start her own SHG instead. That is how the Yashaswini SHG began 20 years ago in April 1999.

From a small 10-member group then to being one of Karnataka's most successful woman group, the Yashaswini SHG has come a long way under her stewardship. She not only mobilised the women to come together and save regularly, but also ensured that each one of them was trained in organising themselves, in basic book-keeping and in enterprise development. Over time, Kamakshi built the group to run its own co-operative selling fertilisers and other agri inputs to local farmers and getting women to make incense sticks in their spare time. These agarbathies are being marketed under the brand name of 'Vandana.' Kamakshi has inspired hundreds of women not just in her village but also in the surrounding ones to come together and collectivise themselves into Self Help Groups.

Another humiliating incident in the early days led her to start another successful enterprise. The women had gotten together to celebrate International Women's Day and had invited local bigwigs to attend the same. As they had no money for an elaborate function, they had organised the event under a tree. The dignitaries found it disgraceful to sit in the open under the hot sun and created a scene and shamed the women by asking them not to conduct events if they did not have the ability to have a proper shamiyana and stage. While this left the women saddened, Kamakshi saw an opportunity here. She decided that they would use their savings to buy the required tent material and run a shamiyana rental agency. Today they are one of the largest suppliers of such material and rent it out to all local events and marriages. And Kamakshi proudly mentioned that they employ men to do the work of erecting them.

> "Leadership is not just about a position or using authority, it is about carrying the burden of responsibility amidst enormous adversities and Kamakshi has learnt all this by hard experience. But the leader in her has only made her learn lessons of humility and increased her convictions in the strength of 'collectives.' For Kamakshi, leadership is all about building the community of women around her, not just socially but economically too..."

In the course of the conversation, Kamakshi mentioned about the several challenges that she had faced these last twenty years. From her family, including her husband taunting her, to the men in the village constantly creating barriers for her, she has seen it all. From being beaten to the several false cases filed against her, she seems to have had her share of issues. Beneath the soft-spoken exterior, her strength and courage of conviction seems to flow gently. She is more than ever convinced that women are extremely capable but need to negotiate several challenges in a male-dominated system.

From finding resources to building relationships with the Government agencies to convincing bankers to lend their groups' money, nothing has come easy. She quietly mentions that it is these challenges that has made her into what she is today and people from across the State and country come to visit her and learn from her success. And amidst all the limelight and fanfare, Kamakshi has remained grounded and clear in her purpose. She knows that women empowerment is not a mere slogan or a 1-day celebration but needs to be a journey with the destination constantly moving ahead. And that she cannot do this alone. Despite all the adulation and fame, she has managed to keep her team members inspired and together. Like a true leader, she is not hesitant to share the credit with everyone around her. She insisted that I meet with Veena and Pavithra and made them share their journey with me.

The one question that I am asked in the several leadership workshops that I run is whether 'Leaders are born' or 'Are they made?' And my conviction is that leaders are made and that each one of us has the potential to exercise leadership. Many of us have 'crucible' experiences and some of us decide to do something about it. Kamakshi was one such who refused to accept the denial of membership into a SHG. Founding organisations is only the beginning but to have a vision, to share this vision with others and to inspire them to realise this vision takes a special kind of person. And it is such people who exercise leadership in the true sense. Kamakshi today earns more than Rs. 1,000 a day, but then she mentions that she is not happy about this. For her happiness is to see every woman in the several SHGs that she has promoted earning this kind of money. And more than money, she says that true happiness for her is having her dignity and self-respect intact. And it is this sense of independence and self-respect makes her reject the freebies that local politicians' have tried to tempt her and her group members during the election season.

From a rustic rural woman with basic education, Kamakshi reflects the confidence of a self-made CEO today. She talks of how they have diversified and built a catering business driven by the strengths of women; her recognition of the need for men to work for their shamiyana business and how she wants to continue the agri-business more for the social considerations than economic ones. Her clarity of thought, her perseverance and focus on the work at the centre is reflective of a true leader.

And, amidst all the pressures of being a community leader, Kamakshi has also learnt to balance her personal family life with her community role. Her older son has a M.Com degree and helps her out in managing their farm and in her work. Her younger son is a lawyer and practices corporate law. And she oozes maternal pride when she talks about them.

Leadership is not just about a position or using authority, it is about carrying the burden of responsibility amidst enormous adversities and Kamakshi has learnt all this by hard experience. But the leader in her has only made her learn lessons of humility and increased her convictions in the strength of 'collectives'. For Kamakshi, leadership is all about building the community of women around her, not just socially but economically too. And she wants to continue to do it in her own quiet way.

129th Ramotsava by Ramabhyudaya Sabha - 3

Sophisticated singing

Sisters Apoorva and Anahita gave a vocal concert at Alamma's Choultry on Apr. 16 accompanied by Gokul on violin, B.C.Manjunath on mridanga and M.R.Manjunath on ghata.

By Dr. Padmavathi Narasimhan

Sisters Apoorva and Anahita gave a vocal concert at the Alamma's choultry under the aegis of Ramabhyudaya Sabha on 16th April, 2019. They were accompanied by young Gokul on the violin, B.C. Manjunath on mridanga and M.R.Manjunath on ghata.

Tutelage under a stalwart like Chitraveena Ravikiran has given the sisters a sophisticated singing. Rising to the occasion, they mostly chose compositions on Lord Rama for the present concert.

The sisters paid their obeisance to Lord Ganapati with 'Maha Ganapatim' by Jayachamaraja Wadiyar in a rare raga Amruta vahini. Anahita sang Shahana which led to Tyagaraja's 'Raghupate Rama Rakshasa Bheema'. This is a rare composition of Tyagaraja in Sanskrit hardly taken up by musicians in a concert. The composition was rendered well with good sangatis and an apt neraval at 'Saraseeruha nayana sajjana hrdaya niketana', which describes Rama's qualities with splendid adjectives. Energetic Swaras followed by the neraval were admirable.

Apoorva's expansion of Varali carried heart-warming melody. The free-wheeling brigas were cleverly connected with many made-for-the-raga phrases. Tyagraja's 'Eti anmamidi ha', which started with the anupallavi, was rendered with intellectual swarakalpana at 'Sagara Shayanuni Tyagarajanutuni'. Fillers 'Rama Rama Rama Rama Rama enniro Seeta' in Vasanta and Rama nama Ratnahara dorakitu' by Purandara Dasa were welcome with a smile by the audience.

The centrestage was reserved for an RTP in shanmukhapriya. The ragalapana was shared by both the sisters while Tanam was presented in ragamalika in ragas Behag, Nata and Kanada, finally closing with Shanmukhapriya again. The pallavi was intellectually woven in Chaturashra Jhampe tALa, Khanda Nade, the lyrics being 'Rama RaghurAma GuNadhAma mamava pattAbhi.' The swaras were again developed in ragamalika in Ranjani, Devamanohari (by the violinist) Kapi and Bahudari. Violinist Gokul is a young lad who stood upto expectation in all parts of the manodharma throughout the concert. B.C. Manjunath and M.R. Manjunath (ghata) supported the artistes enthusiastically.

Bhajan 'He Govind He Gopal' of MS fame, 'Rama nAma bhajisuvavage unte bhavada bandhana' In Darbari kanada and a tillana composed by their Guru Ravikiran in Kamas formed the concluding part of the concert.

Audience enthralled with lilting film hits of yesteryears

Mysuru, Apr. 22 (MK&US)- Ninaad Musical Trust along with MMC Alumni Association had organised a musical programme titled 'Gaana Sudhe Vincent Jothe' at the Platinum Jubilee Hall in JK Grounds here last evening.

A group of singers rendered popular songs from Kannada, Tamil and Hindi movies of yesteryears. The programme commenced with singer Neetu Ninad rendering a devotional song 'Govinda ninna naamave chanda'. Later Siddaraj Kote sang 'Ninna Kanna notadalli' from the movie 'Babruvahana' getting an applause from the audience.

Down the line singers Amulya, Nagavalli, Joyce, Bhuvaneshwari, Ashwini Rao, Keshavan, Devika, Anuradha, Priya, Bhagya, Dr. Brahmendra, Dr. Subhash, Dr. Anand, Dr. Manjunath, Kashinath, Manjunath, Siddaraju, Jagadish, Sinchana, Prakash, Narasimha, Muthuraj, Nagendra, Shivaraj, Papanna, Lokesh, Prasanna and Srivani rendered songs from the movies 'Shor', 'Veerakesari', 'Keralida Simha', 'Hrudaya Hadithu' and many more.

Inaugurating the programme Music Director Gururaj said that music always soothes mind and brings happiness. He asked music organisations to identify and nurture budding singers. He opined that hard work and regular practice alone can evolve a good musician.

Popular Drums and Rhythm Pad artiste of city Vincent was presented musical instruments and felicitated on the occasion.

Trust President A.S. Prasanna Kumar, A.S. Ravishankar, Mahesh Kumar, Divya Keshavan, Mike Chandru and others were present at the event.

The Final Warning

By Ashvini Ranjan

Today is Earth Day and we need to do a reality check of its fragile health. Earth is already in the Intensive Care Unit and many of us do not even realise it.

The month of March this year, we saw the temperatures in Mysore averaging between 33.7 degrees and 37.9 degrees. According to the Indian Meteorological Department, it is the highest in 88 years. Some of us fortunate to possess air conditioners and air coolers found relief from the sweltering heat while those less fortunate bore the brunt.

Neither of us viewed the change in climate as yet another warning by nature of the times to come. Nature has been consistently warning us to take note and mend our ways. But all thought of any corrective action by the political leadership loses its priority once the rains arrive and the mercury recedes. This is true of most countries and not just India.

In 2015, World leaders met in Paris to discuss the challenges of Global Warming. They realized the urgency and gravity of the situation and reached a consensus under the Paris Agreement to take appropriate measures to contain the increase in temperatures to below 2 degrees compared to the global averages. Why 2 degrees one may ask ?

It is believed that 2 degrees is the threshold point beyond which disasters begin. But as per the report from the United Nation's Inter Governmental panel (IPCC) of 2018, no government is even close to implementing the agreed measures.

The Green House Gases comprising mainly of Carbon Dioxide (Co2), Methane and Nitrous Oxide is responsible for maintaining the earth's temperature. Though essential to maintain the temperature required to sustain life on earth, it is the excess emissions of this gas which is the cause of concern.

For the last 800,000 years up until 1900, Co2 levels in the atmosphere was about 300 parts per million units of atmosphere. Since then, Co2 levels have increased alarmingly to 405.7 during 2018.

In his book ' Uninhabitable Earth ' David Wallace Wells deputy editor of New York Magazine says that man is used to believe that changes in nature happen spread over millions of years and our response is based on this belief. What he stresses on is that the rate of change is now in terms of decades and not even in hundreds of years.

Wallace Wells vividly describes what we are likely witness as a consequence of increased temperatures.

• The Arctic ice is melting. Frozen rock and soil have trillions of tons of carbon trapped. As the ice thaws, the carbon will be released into the atmosphere.

• As the temperatures increase, the probability of forest fires increase, decreasing carbon sucking foliage.

• Both in Europe and the US, the frequency of storms and hurricanes in the last twenty years have increased. 1 degree in temperature can increase the frequency of severe hurricanes and tsunamis by twenty five times.

• Melting polar ice caps will also witness sea levels raising two to three meters. Countries which are at sea level will submerge. Asia has the largest population at risk. The city of Mumbai too will disappear.

• The earth will experience severe shortage of drinking water as rivers and lakes will be polluted. Food shortages will occur as farm land available for agriculture will shrink rapidly.

• At this stage you may feel like taking a deep breath. Wait before you do that. We are in the middle of a global air quality crisis. Pollution levels have risen to alarming levels and taking a deep breath may do more harm than good.

The list can go on. We have not mentioned the spread of disease and the growing resistance to known drugs. It is time we put all mundane things aside and prioritise the next steps we need to take for our own sake. We cannot wait for some one else to take the lead. What is the use of all the wealth and power when our existence itself is at stake? We hope and pray that the individual who will finally become the leader of our country will have the wisdom to take steps that will ensure the well being of the earth and its people. At an individual level, stop polluting our water bodies, burning waste which increases toxicity in the air, save water, plant trees and care for them. Educate people around you to do the same. And hope for the best !

HAPPY EARTH DAY !!

'Day of water rationing is not far off'

Mysuru, Apr.22 (MTY&NNN)- "Rapid and unpredictable climate change has forced the City of Cape Town in South Africa to introduce water rationing and this day is not far off when we see the situation in Bengaluru which is suffering from acute water shortage," said Principal District and Sessions Court Judge Suresh K. Vontigodi.

He was speaking after inaugurating the 'World Earth Day' celebrations jointly organised by the Zilla Panchayat, District Legal Services Authority, District Administration and Bar Association at the ZP premises here this morning and said that the main reason for the landslides in Kerala and Madikeri was due to rapid urbanisation.

The natural and organic farming methods have been given up and instead chemicals and fertilisers are being used which leads to water, soil and air pollution. As the forest cover reduces, the rainfall decreases and this leads to drought and other conditions, he said. The plastic that is generated is mindboggling as nearly eight lakh tonnes of waste is generated which is not biodegradable thus polluting the air, earth and the oceans. Instead of plastic, people should make a vow to use brass and copper vessels to drink water, he said. He said if remedial measures like recycling of water and rain water harvesting is not followed then the future generations will be in grave danger.

ZP Chief Executive Officer K. Jyothi, Senior Civil Judge and Member Secretary, District Legal Services Authority B.P. Devamane, Chief Conservator of Forests Ambadi Madhava, ZP Planning Officer Prabhuswamy, Bar Association President Anand Kumar, Assistant Superintendent of Police Sneha and others were present.

Four JD(S) leaders killed

According to TV reports trickling from Bengaluru, the JD(S) team — Kacharahalli Govindappa Hanumantharayappa, Hanumaiah Shivakumar, Kacharahalli Munibyrappa Lakshminarayan, Adakamaranahalli Maregowda, Horekyathanahalli Puttaraju, Lakshmana Gowda Ramesh and Muniyappa Rangappa had gone to Sri Lanka to arrange for the itinerary of over 30 JD(S) party workers who were scheduled to leave to Colombo on a trip.

The seven-member team had gone to Colombo on Apr. 20 to oversee the arrangements before the arrival of other team members. Reports said that they were staying in room 618 and 619 at Shangri-La luxury hotel where suicide bombers struck yesterday. Reports said that the seven members were Class-1 PWD contractors.

"I am deeply pained at the loss of their lives in the heinous attack. They were also committed workers of our party and their death has brought immense sorrow to us," Kumaraswamy said. "The Chief Secretary's Office is in constant touch with the Resident Commissioner at Karnataka Bhavan, New Delhi, and the families of the victims and the missing persons for further information on them," he said.

Police said today that 24 people had been arrested, all of whom were local Sri Lankans. There has been no claim of responsibility for the dastardly attack yet.

External Affairs Minister Sushma Swaraj, via her Twitter account, has been responding to queries about missing family members. One of the relatives of JD(S) workers tweeted to her, "missing people who were at Shangri-la before blasts, unable to connect the m after the blast. Help needed — Puttaraju from Horekyathanahalli, Maaregowda from Adakimaranahalli, Lakshminarayana, Ramesh."

MCC slaps tax notice on Police Bhavan

Asks Bhavan authorities to pay Rs. 1.65 crore pending tax

Mysuru, Apr. 22 (RK&BCT)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has slapped a notice on Karnataka Police Bhavan authorities asking them to cough up pending tax amount since 2002. The Police Bhavan authorities have allegedly been paying less tax under Self-Assessment Scheme (SAS) and this has not gone down well with the MCC authorities.

Speaking to Star of Mysore this morning, MCC Zone 1 Revenue Officer Kuberappa, who is officiating as Zonal Commissioner, said that since 2002, the Police Bhavan authorities have been paying an SAS Tax of Rs. 23,000 per year as, according to them, the building stood on a land that measures 42,600 sqft. The authorities had not got approval for the building before construction, he said.

The building Khata has been registered in the name of Commandant, the President, Karnataka Police Bhavan, Lalitha Mahal Road. According to the declaration made under SAS, the building is spread over 42,600 sqft. "However, when our engineer inspected the spot recently, we found that the built-up area was 64,218 sqft. We found that no permission had been sought either for the additional built-up area or the building approval plan or the Completion Certificate," Kuberappa said.

"Even if we calculate the tax for 42,600 sqft area, Rs. 23,000 tax per year is very less and they are obliged to pay Rs. 1,65,80,818 for 16 years (from 2003-04 to 2018-19) as per the revised tax slab for a built-up area of 64,218 sqft. We have issued a notice to the Commandant on Apr. 1," he added.

According to the tax amount calculated by MCC, the Police Bhavan authorities have to pay Rs. 2.33 crore for 16 years. However, since they have already paid Rs. 67.49 lakh through SAS, Rs. 1,65,80,818 is pending. The difference in the tax amount should be paid within 30 days from the date of issuing notice, Kuberappa said.

Reacting on the issue, City Police Commissioner K.T. Balakrishna said that he has only learnt that the MCC has issued a notice. "We have been paying taxes as per the norms. There might be some issue or the tax slab would have been revised and that would have not come to our notice," he said.

"We were busy with Lok Sabha election duty and we have not yet received any such notice. I will look into the issue and if we have to pay the pending tax amount, it will be settled as per legal provisions," he added.

The Police Bhavan was constructed behind KARP Mounted Company. The foundation stone was laid by Thespian Dr. Rajkumar on 2.5.1999 and construction was completed on 9.5.2001. The huge mansion was constructed within a span of 24 months and the Bhavan was inaugurated on 11.8.2001.

Vaastu-Feng Shui & Bio-energetics

By S.B.S.Surendran
Accredited Master Feng Shui Consultant

Harmony & Energy Movement

The movement of energy in any building influences the thought process and the prospects one can attain. Hence, orienting the home or office to harmonise the flow of energy and availing the support of specific Feng Shui enhancers to empower the good fortune is essential.

Feng Shui has been used in the home to improve such things as wealth and careers, find new partners, start families, help children to study, improve family harmony and later in life to support and improve our health so that we can enjoy the wealth which we have accumulated over the years. In short, Feng Shui at home can be used to influence just about every aspect of our lives.

Feng Shui teaches us that everything is energy, and we are in a constant energy exchange with everything around us. Thus, it is very important to create a Feng Shui home that has a happy and healthy energy. By relating to the spiritual dimension, Feng Shui becomes more relevant to our modern day life. With our demanding, high-pressure lifestyles today, we need ways with which we can enhance and bring in some much-needed balance to our lives.

A home or business has interior factors and exterior factors that influence you and your mood. Shape of the house, floor plan, positions of bedrooms, kitchens, bathrooms, desks, have an unseen psychological effect on you. History of the house, electro-magnetic energies emitted by electrical connections and cable, telephone, satellite dishes can have either positive or negative effects on you depending upon the sort of person you are. Similarly, beams, lights, plants, water and influences of people surrounding you also have some role to play.

From a Feng Shui perspective, we can discern various kinds of property, some, which possess intrinsic good energy and fortunes, which benefits everyone's life. There are certain areas and neighbourhoods, which tend to have better Feng Shui and prosperity than other neighbourhoods. The effect of surroundings and the layout or planning of the locality is the key to this kind of prosperity. Adapt some of the following to enhance the Feng Shui of your space:

• Paperweights can help promote growth and strength. Circular paperweights conjure the stability of earth and are considered good.

• Add brighter, more fully-coloured light, bad lighting makes you physically feel bad. Sunlight is actually used as a treatment for sleep disorders and depression.

• Move things within your home to change the energy and move out stagnation. This ensures free flow of Chi within your home.

• Getting organised can boost productivity, while clearing clutter can provide a space that allows creativity to flow. Hence make changes and bring in art to enhance creativity.

• Discard broken objects and ensure that crystal objects are cleansed regularly and kept clean.

RCB pip CSK in last ball thriller despite Dhoni's heroics

Bengaluru, Apr. 22- Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) beat Chennai Super Kings (CSK) by just one run in their IPL 2019 match at Chinnaswamy Stadium in Bengaluru, with only a last-ball run out staving off either a Super Over or a CSK win.

A dismal showing by CSK's top order — they were 28-4 at one point — was almost negated by M.S. Dhoni, whose 48-ball 84 n.o., went in vain but at one point seemed to have swung the tie in the away team's favour. Dhoni lost partners aplenty but as long as he was at the crease RCB could not breathe easy. CSK needed 36 off the final 2 overs yet some insane power hitting from Dhoni nearly took them over the line.

After CSK took 10 runs off the 19th over, Dhoni took apart Umesh Yadav, the man designated to bowl the final over. The first 3 balls went for a boundary and 2 sixes, respectively.

Dhoni then ran two before smoking Yadav for a six that travelled an amazing 111 metres, clearing the stadium roof. Yet with just two runs needed of the final ball, Dhoni swing and missed at an Umesh slower ball.

He took off for a run, as did his partner Shardul Thakur. Yet a direct hit from Parthiv Patel behind the stumps was enough to hand RCB a win that should have, in theory, been a lot more comfortable.

CSK got off to the worst start possible, with Dale Steyn dismissing both Shane Watson and Suresh Raina in the first over. Watson edged one to Marcus Stoinis at first slip whereas Raina's stumps were castled.

Faf du Plessis gave a simple catch to AB de Villiers off Umesh Yadav's bowling and Kedhar Jadhav too was removed by Umesh, with De Villiers the man taking the catch once again.

Earlier after being asked to bat by Dhoni, RCB rode on a half century from Parthiv to post 161-7 at the end of their 20 overs.

Parthiv (53) batted through the majority of the overs even as RCB lost wickets on a regular basis, with batsmen getting starts but failing to convert them.

The match started on a bad note for the home side as Deepak Chahar got Virat Kohli to edge one to Dhoni in the third over itself.

AB De Villiers joined Parthiv out in the middle and was looking good out in the middle but fell victim to Ravindra Jadeja in the seventh over, holing out to Du Plessis.

Akshdeep Nath was the next man out and he too played a decent knock, scoring 24 runs and stringing together a 41-run partnership with Parthiv but he too was removed by Jadeja.

Parthiv eventually brought up his half-century but was dismissed by a slower ball from Dwayne Bravo as he gave Watson a simple catch.

Parthiv Patel was chosen as the Man of the Match.

RCB celebrate their 1-run victory over CSK. This victory keeps them in the race for a playoff spot.

Sunrisers score clinical win over Kolkata

Hyderabad, Apr. 22- David Warner (38-ball 67) and Jonny Bairstow (43-ball 80n.o) ripped Kolkata apart with their fourth 100-plus partnership this season and helped Sunrisers register a clinical nine-wicket win.

The two added 131 runs in 12.2 overs as Hyderabad raced to a nine-wicket win at the Rajiv Gandhi International Stadium and leapfrogged Kings XI Punjab to take the No. 4 spot in the points table.

Asked to bat, Sunil Narine did his thing and got Kolkata off to an expeditious start. Hyderabad made the mistake of bowling Shahbaz Nadeem to Narine and the left-handed batsman from Trinidad smoked him for two sixes before smashing Khaleel Ahmed (3 for 33) for 6, 4 and 4 in three consecutive deliveries. The paceman got his revenge in the fourth ball when he knocked Narine over for 8-ball 25 with a slower delivery.

The visiting side were 42 for 1 in 2.4 overs when Narine perished but failed to keep up the momentum. Shubman Gill (3), Nitish Rana (11) and Dinesh Karthik (6) departed without contributing much and Kolkata were reduced to 73 for 4. With wickets falling at the other end, Lynn couldn't play his natural game and ended up playing way too many deliveries. K. Khaleel Ahmed was Man of the Match.

David Warner and Jonny Bairstow power Sunrisers to 9-wicket win.

Mysuru, Apr.22 (RK&NNN)- The greening and beautification of the city was part of the Swachh Bharat campaign and hence many roads in the city with median strips were planted with eye-catching flowering plants. However, the plants on the median strip near Bamboo Bazaar on Sayyaji Rao Road opposite to the Deaf and Dumb School have gone dry.

Before the Swachh Survekshan, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) planted saplings in the median strip near Bamboo Bazaar on Sayyaji Rao Road, B.N. Road that starts from Hardinge Circle towards Gun House and Hunsur Road where there are pots with plants in them in the median strips.

In the beginning the Corporation would water these plants through water tankers. However, when the summer started the plants near Bamboo Bazaar were deprived of water and hence they have all dried up.

But the plants on the median strip on the east side of the Palace and on Hunsur Road are thriving and look green. Only if the Corporation continuously waters the plants till it starts raining will the plants survive, otherwise they will all perish and spoil the beauty of the city, felt a few citizens.

When Star of Mysore spoke to MCC Health Officer Dr. Nagaraj, he said that the Horticulture Department staff was watering the plants twice a week. Regarding the drying up of plants near Bamboo Bazaar, he would inspect the place and take immediate action, he added. The sole aim of the MCC is to keep the city green and so it becomes essential to water the plants regularly, he said.

Ballahalli Layout in limbo, thanks to election code

MUDA to meet farmers on June 4 to end the long-pending deadlock

Mysuru, Apr. 22 (RK&SR)- The Election Model Code of Conduct has come in the way of the process of formation of Ballahalli Layout, one of the ambitious and a long pending project of Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA).

Sources in MUDA told Star of Mysore that the Authority has now planned to convene a meeting of farmers on June 4 to finalise land acquisition under 50:50 ratio where 50 percent of the developed sites will be given free of cost to land owners whose lands have been acquired for the project. The remaining 50 percent will be owned by MUDA.

MUDA was constituted with the main purpose of development of new layouts to ease the housing needs of people and provide better infrastructure facilities. Mysuru is witnessing tremendous development after capital city Bengaluru.

It is attracting people from all corners of the world as the place is gifted with clean environment, historic monuments and buildings, concentration of industries, educational and employment opportunities, road and rail connectivity. This apart, good healthcare facility is available in Mysuru and the place is known as the Yoga Capital.

Picture for representation only.

Seeing the growth potential, MUDA has prepared a revised Comprehensive Development Plan (CDP) 2031 for the systematic growth of the city, boosting tourism potential also focussing on developing the city without damaging its heritage character.

But MUDA has seen limited success in distributing civic amenity sites, residential sites, commercial sites and other non-residential sites and there are more than one lakh applicants who are waiting for a MUDA plot since many years.

Some of the reasons for MUDA failing to develop new layouts are constraints in land disputes with farmers, delay in land acquisition, government approval process and competition from private land developers, house building credit cooperative societies and scarcity of land in city surroundings.

Lack of co-operation from farmers for development of new layouts is one of its main stumbling blocks in many cases including Ballahalli Layout formation. The Ballahalli Layout is near Koorgalli and MUDA has planned to acquire 484 acres and 28 guntas of land. It is a Rs. 258 crore project and the State Government approved it on 30.1.2015 and the 50:50 ratio was decided on 11.2.2015.

Earlier, MUDA was following 40:60 ratio where its share was 60 percent and the land owner share was 40 percent. 50:50 ratio has been worked out by MUDA to avoid litigations and claims of more compensation. If the ratio is higher than 50 percent, it will not be profitable to MUDA, said officials. Of the 484 acres, MUDA has earmarked 7,67,883 sq.ft. land for development of residential sites, 22,798 sq.ft. land for commercial sites, 1,74,524 sq.ft. for civic amenity sites, 2,61,860 sq.ft. for development of parks and 5,18,146 sq.ft. of land for development of roads.

In the layout, MUDA aims to create 6,000 sites and as per the 50:50 ratio, 3,000 developed sites will go to farmers after leaving out space and earmarking roads, drainage, underground drainage, power lines, parks, open space, civic amenity sites and corner sites.

Already, MUDA authorities have held four meetings with land owners and 295 of them have orally agreed to part with the land. These oral consents must be documented in the form of memorandum of understanding (MoU) between MUDA and land owners for the notified land. Once the MoU process is completed, MUDA will begin forming layouts.

One of the stumbling blocks for MUDA at Ballahalli is that the land owners are asking more share in the layout. Mysuru District Minister G.T. Devegowda (GTD) also conducted a meeting to resolve the issue between land owners and MUDA last February but the deadlock remains unresolved.

Recently, some Ballahalli farmers also staged a protest outside MUDA office opposing the Layout proposal and the farmers' share. As Election Model Code was in force, MUDA was not able to find a solution to the imbroglio. Now, MUDA has decided to resolve the issue by holding parleys with farmers on June 4.

MUDA has appealed to farmers and owners of lands coming under all survey numbers, for which the MUDA has issued primary notification for acquisition, to attend June 4 meeting.

MUDA to form five new layouts

MUDA will form five new residential layouts in view of rapid urbanisation and population growth. The five layouts are Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar Layout, Swarna Jayanti Nagar Layout, Shanthaveri Gopalagowda Layout, Lalithadrinagar Second Stage and Lal Bahadur Shastri Nagar Second Stage. In all, MUDA is targeting to distribute 5,000 sites after developing more than 780 acres of land.

Officials told Star of Mysore that they have already prepared a Detailed Project Report (DPR) to develop these layouts under 50:50 ratio and have submitted a proposal to the Government. They are hoping to get approval after the Lok Sabha elections.

Rahul expresses regret in SC over his Rafale remarks

New Delhi, Apr. 22 (UNI)- Congress President Rahul Gandhi this morning expressed regret in the Supreme Court for "incorrectly" attributing his 'Chowkidar Narendra Modi Chor Hai' remarks to the top court's verdict in the Rafale case.

Rahul Gandhi

In response to a contempt petition filed against him in the SC, Gandhi said that the statement was made in the heat of the political campaign and his remarks were misused by his opponents. "My statement was made in the heat of political campaigning... my political opponents wrongly projected that I had deliberately and intentionally suggested that SC had said 'Chowkidar Chor hai". Nothing could be farther from my mind," Gandhi said.

BJP leader Meenakshi Lekhi, a sitting Lok Sabha MP from New Delhi Constituency, had moved the Apex Court, alleging that Gandhi attributed his personal remarks to the Top Court and tried to create a prejudice.

The Apex Court, which last December cleared the Modi government of allegations of irregularities over the Rafale deal with France, on Apr. 10, said it will hear a review petition on the basis of some 'leaked' documents, referred to by the petitioners who have demanded a probe.

It dismissed the government's preliminary objections claiming "privilege" over them. After the Court decision, Gandhi had said, "I am happy and I have been saying so for months that India's PM has given the Air Force's money to (industrialist) Anil Ambani, and the SC has accepted it. The SC is going to investigate it."

After hearing Lekhi's petition, the Top Court gave a categorical clarification that in its Rafale judgment there was no occasion for it to make a mention of the alleged contemptuous observation that "Chowkidar Narendra Modi Chor Hai" as has been attributed to it by Rahul Gandhi.

While Aravind died at the spot, Vipin who was seriously injured was rushed to nearby KR Hospital. Mysuru-Kodagu LS seat

Men outnumber women in exercising franchise

Mysuru, Apr.22- Even as Mysuru-Kodagu Lok Sabha Constituency, which went to the polls on Apr.18, recorded a voter turnout of 69.25 percent, it is now understood that men have outnumbered women in exercising their franchise. Although women outnumbered men in terms of the number of voters, men voters outnumbered women when it came to casting votes.

The Constituency witnessed a total of 13,11,930 voters exercising their franchise, out of which 6,64,712 are men, 6,47,203 women and others 14 which comprises Kodagu and part of Mysuru district.

The Constituency has 18,94,372 voters, with 9,44,577 men, 9,49,702 women and 127 other voters. The Constituency has eight Assembly segments — Madikeri and Virajpet in Kodagu district and NR, KR, Chamaraja, Chamundeshwari, Periyapatna and Hunsur in Mysuru district.

Except for Madikeri segment, men voters outnumber women in all other segments. Out of 1,11,853 women voters in Madikeri segment, 85,513 women came out to vote, while only 83,781 out of 1,09,294 men voters exercised their franchise.

The highest number of women voters 1,50,055 were in Chamundeshwari Assembly segment, where only 1,05,848 of them cast their vote. On the other hand, Periyapatna had the least number of women voters — 90,895 and out of them, only 69,886 exercised their voting right.

In Virajpet segment, 79,474 out of 1,09,985 women cast their vote, while in Hunsur 90,103 out of 1,12, 770, in KR 73,119 out of 1,23,532, in Chamaraja 68,488 of 1,16,929 and in NR, 79,694 out of 1,33,683 women cast their vote.

It appears that SVEEP has made little impact on 'other' category voters as only 14 out of 127 voters in the Constituency exercised their franchise.

NR segment had the highest number of 'other voters' with 42, out of which only 12 of them voted, while one each in Chamaraja and Chamundeshwari segment cast their vote.

Although Madikeri has 10, Virajpet 15, Hunsur 4, Chamundeshwari 34, KR 21 and Chamaraja one 'other' category voters, none of them in these Assembly segments exercised their franchise.

WORD OF THE DAY

Katzenjammer

Pronunciation: KAT-sun-jam-er.

Meaning: Hangover; distress, depression.
Origin: Have you ever heard a cat wailing and felt that you could relate? Apparently some hungover German speakers once did. Katzenjammer comes from German Katze (meaning "cat") and Jammer (meaning "distress" or "misery"). English speakers borrowed the word for their hangovers (and other distressful inner states) in the first half of the 19th century and eventually applied it to outer commotion as well.
The word isn't as popular in English today as it was around the mid-20th century, but it's well-known to many because of The Katzenjammer Kids, a long-running comic strip featuring the incorrigibly mischievous twins Hans and Fritz.
Example: I drank too much that night and woke up submerged in a post-wine katzenjammer the next morning. My head was buzzing, and every fiber of my body slowly shriveled and wilted as the alcohol exited it. — Mac Lethal, Texts from Bennett, 2013

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Keep the ball rolling

Meaning: Maintain a level of activity in and enthusiasm for a project.

Origin: The American expression 'keep the ball rolling' was preceded by the similar British phrase 'keep the ball up'. They had much the same meaning, the earlier one alludes to keeping a ball in the air, that is, conveying the notion of keeping an activity going.
The 'keep the ball rolling' version of the phrase owes its origin and popularity to the US Presidential election of July 1840. That election is widely regarded as introducing all the paraphernalia of present-day elections, that is, campaign songs, advertising slogans and publicity stunts of all kinds. The unpopular incumbent President Martin Van Buren was pitted against Whig candidates, General William Harrison, a war hero who had fought against the Shawnee Indians at Tippecanoe, and John Tyler. The Whig candidates revelled in a folksy 'cider-drinking, log-cabin, men of the people' image and adopted the first known political slogan - 'Tippecanoe and Tyler, too'. Example: A song of the same name was considered to have sung Harrison into the Presidency: Keep the ball rolling Don't you hear from every quarter, quarter, quarter, Good news and true, That swift the ball is rolling on, For Tippecanoe and Tyler Too.
